ADi

application development initiative
tech at columbia

openhatch

RVSP at http://columbia.openhatch.org/
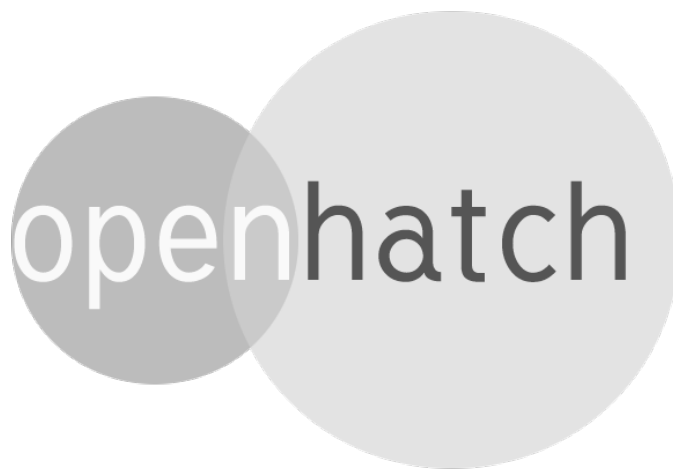

Saturday, Oct 19th
10am-5pm, CS Lounge

Open Source Comes to Campus

OpenHatch, a non-profit group of open source software enthusiasts is leading a workshop on campus to teach students how to get involved in open source software. They want more college students to have the community knowledge and technical skills to participate in globally distributed software projects: big ones, like Firefox and WordPress, and smaller ones, like GNU MediaGoblin and angband. 🌐 adicu.com
f facebook.com/adicu